E-mail Addresses

Nearly everyone has an e-mail address these days, and it does make keeping in touch so much easier.

Some of you have shared your e-mail address with us and it will be on the membership list next month.

If you haven't given yours to John Etchells please do so—if you don't want it published that's fine, but the board will be able to keep in touch with you better if they have it. Thanks.

Presidents message

I would like to congratulate some of our members that have received titles this spring. Jim Friedl and Kodi on getting their TD, glad you finally did it. Edie Braginton and Maggie, Lisa Pattison and Murphy found their gloves adding the TD to their list of titles.

Our club members have been very busy and getting titles to show for their efforts.

TED is behind us once again. As Vice President I had the pleasure of organizing the seminar for four years, I learned a lot about "organizing" in that time and was getting into the swing of it. I felt it was time to have someone else with fresh ideas take over. Now I can be a helper. Good luck to Edie Braginton as she will take over the job. I talked to so many nice people that wanted information about TED and then meeting them was great.

This year the caterer that provided the food was excellent.

Everything was fresh, tasty, and very well presented. Our thanks to Hampton Junction.

The response to our seminar is great and we fill so fast that the waiting list just grows. As I made calls to members to help, there has been good response also so that we have increased the number of participants to 30 for the past two years. To have a successful seminar, we really need one to one with helpers and participants and we have been accomplishing it. Peg Forte is going to put a synopsis of the TED questionnaires in this issue of The Common Scents and everyone can see how people feel about the day.

I hope the years events will interest the membership and you'll come out and be with us.

If you have a suggestion for a program or speaker, please call me or any of the board members and we will follow up on it.

I hope to see you at our training sessions.

Sincerely
Barbara Greenfield

TED Follow-Up Sessions

Rain !! Finally moisture ! The poor dogs have been puffing up little clouds of dust when they exhale. Even with such dry conditions, the novice dogs are doing very well. At the first follow-up on April 22nd. 17 TED people came and showed how well their dogs were doing.

The topic was "Turns", Mimi Ruch was the leader for the morning and distributed print-outs to the TED people on the topic and gave a very informative talk. Mimi made a lot of calls and had plenty of members on hand to help make the session move at a very pleasant pace.

The second follow-up on May 12th. was another clear, dry day. The topic was lead handling and we also talked about how to take care of, and store a long line. Alice Crans, Mimi Ruch and myself talked as a team and it worked very well. The ten or so people that attended asked a lot of good questions that between the three of us were answered. After the talk we used blindfolds to teach how to trust your dog and handle the line. Everyone had a really good time with the game" and learned at the same time.

Thanks to all our members that came out to help work with the new people and also to do some practicing with their own dogs.

The next follow-up session will be on June 10th. at the Tewksbury Farm Park. Edie Braginton will be the leader and the topic will be : "Indicating the Glove". This is one session I need to help Mingo. He wants nothing to do with that dirty old glove. We see everyone at 8AM on the 10th. of June.

MAGGIE'S TRACK

By Edie Braginton

We got up in the middle of the night to get to the track site. New Paltz, NY is not that far from where we live but it had rained on and off for two days. I knew that with the cool early spring, it was possible we would have sleet or freezing rain to contend with as we headed north.

We made a potty stop at the first rest area on the NY Thruway. I passed up the Dunkin Donuts in order to give Maggie a little extra time to stretch her legs and relieve herself. Once we got to the trial grounds, it was anyone's guess if there would be a place or even time for that.

When we arrived at the site we had to wait outside of the gates in a small intersection of roads and driveways. There was a little local traffic and deer kept crossing one of the roads about 100 yards from where we parked. A few of the test participants stood around nervously talking about whether there would be deer on the tracks. I guessed that there would be.

A representative from the club arrived with coffee. Finally, Mike Clemens came, and conducted the draw for tracks. It was a novel draw! The club put numbered stickers on the backs of boxes of flavored chocolates. Maggie and I picked track 5 (raspberry).

The caravan of vans moved inside the grounds and to the club's trial headquarters. There was a port-a-potty in a horse trailer and a three-sided tent with coffee and snacks. There was a sea of mud off the sides of the narrow macadam paths and puddles everywhere. And the cold was numbing. We parked in a line of cars on the path. When Maggie and my turn came, in order to drive to our track, I had to back up on the narrow path past all the other vans and back down a little hill. Not easy to do when you are cold and nervous!

We drove less than a mile away. I was a little nervous. Only one dog had passed so far that morning. The judges and I stood on the little road and looked across a deep, narrow ditch at beautiful fields with large puddles of water. The judges pointed out the start flags in the field in front of us. OK, I said, but how do I get to it? They laughed and pointed at a piece of board straddling the ditch, a makeshift bridge. Well, I thought, Maggie can always jump the ditch if she won't walk on the board! But she was fine.

I took out my tracking line, made sure it was knot-free, and fastened it to her harness. We were on our way! She pulled me along strongly a short distance, then quartered and found the first turn. It was a right. She pulled me along the leg but seemed distracted, not really committed. Her head bobbed up and down. I felt something was wrong and backed up a few feet. She went behind me and pulled backwards to the area of the first turn. We backed up the entire leg, which was 50 yards. Unfortunately, I had curved slightly and now we were to the left of the leg! Maggie took the lead and pulled out again. I felt I could do nothing more to help her. I could only follow. I kept wondering why they weren't whistling us off the track.

Maggie made a left turn and I followed. No whistle. Another left onto a very long leg. No whistle. We were slogging along through standing water and thick mud. We went almost to a tree line. No whistle. I felt hot. What was going on? She made another left.

She pulled me along then stopped and quartered. She splashed through a lot of water. Then I saw a bit of long fur from a deer, possibly the tail. I said "leave it," and "track - track" and she went back to her search. She found another turn, a right, pulled along it a short distance and then stopped, her head raised.

I suddenly remembered something Hope Meaker had said at the TED seminar the day before. We had talked about how Maggie had been blown past the final turn at another test. When the wind was at her back (40 mph!), she had followed air scent over a ridge and missed the turn. She reminded me that it is my responsibility to help my dog when I could. My job was to know how the wind affects the track scent and my dog. Were there any scent traps? There was a slight breeze. I looked around. There were furrows and hollows which trap scent. I held my ground and held the line taut, keeping the communication going. The wind was blowing from right to left across the leg. Chances were that she was slightly downwind of the leg. Maggie paused, then sniffed the wind, quartered in the area and found the glove in a furrow three feet to the right! I caught my breath and ran to her, then raised the glove over our heads. She did it! She did it!

Murphy's TD By Lisa Pattison

Sunday, April 8th at the Hudson Valley Tracking Club's Mohonk fields

Murphy and I arrived at 6 am in thunder and lightning, I put Murphy in the crate and he was vibrating the whole car with his little red furry body.

Luckily (although I didn't think so at the time), our track was 8 and started at 11am. He recovered and tracked wonderfully. The best I have ever seen him do. His short stubby tail flagged gently "conductor style."

The first leg was as short as allowed and I thought he was messing with me when he wanted to turn so soon after the second flag. I had no choice but to follow him .

He was pulling hard as he danced merrily around me splashing his belly in the standing water . The wetter he became the happier and more excited he became. He ran circles at turn two and again at 4 before bolting quickly down the track. At the end he skipped dutifully back to me with the glove.

He frisked me first for the sardines and then the judges. (grin) He was relieved to find the fish at the car.

At the awards Sally Richards mentioned my journey of efforts to track with Murph's heart murmur and loose lead style.

What a great day it was to finally achieve what had eluded me so long.!

I was lured back into the sport immediately and certified my Lacey under Allison Platt 3 weeks ago in time to enter her in the AKC Australian Shepherd Nationals Tracking Trial Memorial Day week!

Editor's Footnote: Lisa drove to MD to be certified with Lacey. On May 27th I received an e-mail from Karen Oliver (LTC member now living in Massachusetts) sending the happy news that Lisa and Lacey had the first track that morning and earned the "T." Lisa will give us the details in the next newsletter.

The Survey said.....

Each year at TED we ask the participants to fill out a survey before they leave the purpose of which is for us to assess how we did. Twenty seven of the thirty participants handed in the surveys.

This year most people learned about our TED from the Match Show Bulletin or from one of our club members.

Fifteen of those attending said they might join the club (we have already received 6 applications). You complimented our demo dog, "Chase" and many of you found our members helpful, friendly, and encouraging. Many of you resolved to attend the follow-up session (17 of you came to the first one) and have followed through on that.

Most of those who answered the question about what discouraged you said nothing did. Deer poop, time and a place to practice were mentioned as possible deterrents.

Most of you said that our program lived up to what we promised in the flyer, calling our program super, wonderful, more than you expected.

On the directions there were mixed reviews. Despite the hand drawn map, some still had trouble following Route 513 through High bridge and some people wanted directions from Routes 202 or 80. But nearly half thought the directions were adequate and two people said the directions were great.

Going outside, especially to work with your own dogs was definitely important to the majority.

In comparing our seminar to others attended by the participants we seemed to 'compare well.' People described the seminar as 'well organized,' 'very informative,' 'vastly superior,' and "this has been the best." You liked the small group activities and the individual attention.

More than half of you had obedience, agility or hunting titles on your dogs already.

The numerical average of the ratings was a 5. The four 4's were balanced out by the 6 and the 7 given by two participants.

Thank you for taking the time to do the survey, we will use the information to fine tune for next year.

WHAT ARE DOGS?

- 1) Dogs lie around all day, sprawled on the most comfortable piece of furniture in the house.
- 2) They can hear a package of food opening half a block away, but don't hear you when you're in the same room.
- 3) They can look dumb and lovable all at the same time.
- 4) They growl when they are not happy.
- 5) When you want to play, they want to play.
- 6) When you want to be alone, they want to play.
- 7) They are great at begging.
- 8) They will love you forever if you rub their tummies.
- 9) They can never have enough toys and they leave them everywhere.
- 10) They do disgusting things with their mouths and then try to give you a kiss.

Conclusion: They're tiny little men in fur coats.

Tidbits...

Bev Olsen's "Snowflake" (U-AC U-CD CH RHEWLLYD PLUENEIRA O CARDACH CDX AX AXJ) finished her AXJ title at Burlington Co. KC with a perfect score, 2 seconds under time and a 2nd place.

Hope said, "In April she finished her CD with a 193 and a 195 (for a 195 avg.) despite being pregnant and having "the runs" for three days. I'm very proud of her. She slept all day Sunday to recover." On Mother's Day weekend, Kelly earned her Can CD with three 2nds and a 3rd and an average score of 195. (Not bad for a bitch due to have puppies in 2 weeks.)

Edie Braginton's German Shepherd "Becka" has completed her Novice Standard title in agility.

Vicky Brown's German Shepherd, "Reba" has earned her UCDX. And her Golden Retriever, "Nick" has earned his first Novice Jumpers with Weaves leg.

Peg Forte and Hope Meaker's Light-foot's Deacon TD, earned his NA (Novice Agility) on April 28th. He earned his CD on May 25th, qualifying in 3 shows in fifteen days. At the Allentown DTC Trial he was the Highest Scoring Dog with a Tracking Title and was awarded a ceramic trivet donated by Ruth Brader (a LTC member). At the same trial he was the Highest Scoring Dog in Novice B with an Agility Title, the award was Diane Bauman's booklet on Tracking and a dog bone. At the Plainfield KC show he was the Highest Scoring Flat-Coated Retriever for which he received a lovely ceramic candy dish. Deacon also has earned two Novice Jumpers with Weaves legs this spring, with his junior handler, Lauren Nicolai.

KODI EARNS HER "T"

Jim Friedl sent the following message via E-Mail:

"I'd like to tell you, John, Barbara, Mimi, Molly and everyone else in the club that Kodi found the glove! Please, pass on the good news as I can't seem to locate my club directory. And, thanks to everyone in the club who helped make this day happen. See you all soon.

Kodi the wonder pup had a wonderful Sunday.

Ch. Chesabar Sandra Kodiak WD, CDX, and now TD."

Editors Note: This is all we received thus far, from Jim about his Chesapeake Bay Retriever earning her "T." Jim deserved much credit for perseverance, he worked on training Kodi to track, often coming close to getting certified.
